MEMPHIS WOMEN CELEBRATE WITH VICTORY LUNCHEON

Members of the Memphis League of Women Voters, of which Mrs. D. B. Puryear is the efficient young president, celebrated their newly acquired citizenship with a brilliant Victory luncheon on Wednesday afternoon at the Hotel Gayoso.

Several hundred representative Memphis women and their guests, including a number of prominent visitors, which had been beautifully decorated under the direction of Mrs. Thos. Waltrip and Miss Eleanor Trezvant, golden yellow, the suffrage color, predominating in the color scheme. The two tables were arranged in the form of a "T" with golden runners down the length of each table, which were further beautified with graceful clusters of golden glow and at the foot of the table, facing the special guest of honor and speaker of the day, Mrs. George Fort Milton, was a miniature figure of Victory, draped in the suffrage colors. The unique place cards paid tribute to Tennessee as the 36th state to ratify and secure suffrage for all the women of the country. They were tape measures bearing the inscription "Tennessee the perfect 36". The lights were shaded in yellow and clusters of golden glow were artistically arranged on the wall brackets about the banquet room, where the guests were seated to enjoy the three delicious courses of the menu.

Mrs. Austin Tindall, who served as chairman of the committee in charge of the luncheon, presided most charmingly and in her own inimitable way, introduced the speakers of the afternoon, her remarks being interspersed with witty and semi-musical quips, which were greeted by laughter and applause.

In her address on "What the League Stands For," Mrs. George Fort Milton, of Chattanooga, inspired the members of the league to continue their efforts to foster education in citizenship, secure needed legislation and to reduce illiteracy. She urged the legislation that concerns itself with child welfare, education, the home and high priced women in gainful occupations, public health and morals and independent citizenship for married women. She stressed the necessity for women becoming members of the League of Women Voters, which is necessary, instead of going into the party to become mere echoes of the men, as it will devote upon the women of the country to bring about the needed reforms, which can only be done by organization.

Mr. T. K. Riddick, who was among the first of the Tennessee men to espouse the cause of suffrage, made a short, but most interesting talk on "The Price Paid for the Ballot," and five-minute talks were also made by Mrs. Mark Anthony, state vice-chairman, Mrs. W. B. Jordan, Mrs. Puryear and others.

Mrs. Elmer E. Houk, in a most interesting way, outlined the plan for the citizenship school, which will be held under the auspices of the league, at the Chamber of Commerce, for five afternoons and two evenings, beginning Nov. 18. The classes, which will be conducted by some of Memphis' best-informed men, will be open to all women interested. Mrs. Houk also urged that every woman in Memphis become a member of the league.

The afternoon's program opened by the singing in union of the Victory song, the two verses of the song having been set to the music of "Dixie".

Beautiful vocal numbers, which were greatly enjoyed, were rendered by Mrs. James L. McRee, accompanied by Miss Birdie Chamberlain.

Weddings

Clement-Jayroe.

The Second Presbyterian church will be the scene of an unusually pretty wedding on Wednesday evening at 8:30 o'clock, when Miss Ruth Haskell Clement, daughter of Mrs. M. T. Clement, will become the bride of Mr. Thomas Jayroe, the Rev. A. L. A. D.D., pastor of the church, officiating.

The church will be decorated with palms and ferns. Mr. Adolph Steuterman will preside at the organ rendering a program of well-selected nuptial music. Just before the entrance of the bridal party, Mr. Stanton Rogers will sing "The Sweetest Story Ever Told."

The bride who will be given in marriage by her brother, Mr. Albert Price Clement, will wear an imported suit of sand dune with seal trimmings, a hat and accessories in harmony and a corsage bouquet of bride roses and valley lilies.

Miss Avaline Edgington, the maid of honor, will be crowned in a French model of blue silk voile with trimmings of silver, blue and rose emeralds and will wear a hat of blue and black velvet. Her flowers will be Russell roses in an arm bouquet.

Mr. George Young will be the best man and Messrs. Buford and Guy Claxton will serve as ushers.

Following the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Jayroe will leave for a short bridal trip and on their return will be at home at 1839 Union avenue.

Norment-Hollingsworth.

A pretty wedding was solemnized Monday at 1:45 o'clock at the Cumberland Presbyterian church at Whiteville, Tenn., when Miss Ellis Norment became the bride of Mr. Joseph E. Hollingsworth, the Rev. W. M. Norment, grandfather of the bride, officiating, using the impressive ring ceremony.

For the occasion the church was beautifully decorated in a profusion of ferns, marking the place of the ceremony. The bride was gowned in a suit of blue tulle with accessories in harmony and wore a corsage bouquet of Sweetheart roses and valley lilies.

Miss Dorothy Nelson, of Jacksonville, Fla., acting as maid of honor, was attractively gowned in brown georgette crepe and carried an arm bouquet of Sunburst roses. Mrs. Archie Newman, of Marion, Ark., serving as matron of honor, was becomingly attired in brown tulle and carried an arm bouquet of Sunburst roses. The little Misses Alberta Hale and Annie Louise Cobb, of Whitehaven, as flower girls, were dressed in blue organdie frocks and strewed rose petals from dainty yellow baskets.

Mr. Charles Hollingsworth, brother of the bridegroom, acted as best man. The ushers were Messrs. Barnett and Prentice Wilkes.

Miss Ada D. Caruthers sweetly

Tri-State Fair, Sept. 25 to Oct. 24—"Let's Go!"

The Adam Period

This period takes its name from the four Adam Brothers, architects and designers of furniture, who lived and worked in England during the latter half of the 18th century.

Lightness and grace, with beautiful and refined proportion are the outstanding features of this period. The Adam Brothers were also masters in the clever selection and application of refined ornamentation.

Its Characteristic Mark

Furniture of this period may be recognized by its decorations of urns, vases and floral wreaths, and rosettes. Also by the straight lines that characterize this period, with legs gracefully tapered or fluted. Note also the oval backed chair with spokes, as in a wheel. The intelligent service this store provides in the selection of furniture of this type is the result of long experience and an actual knowledge of the suitability of the various periods for your own particular home. Your inspection of period styles on display is invited.
